WEATHER ALMANAC.

Owing to a considerable demand here for last year's issue of Smith's Planetary Almanac and Weather Guide, the author writes that he has made calculations for the latitude of Hawaii, as to the best time for planting, in the issue for 1891. Several agriculturists in these islands have testified that they have tested the times given in a former issue with thorough satisfaction. Arrangements have been made for receiving a few copies at the earliest date possible, when they will be put on

AUSTRALIAN NEWS.

SYDNEY, Nov. 2. The departure of Lord Carrington en route for England, was witnessed by 200,000 people, and the route from Government House to the rail-way station was literally thronged with spectators. During his speech at the farewell banquet given him in Sydney, Lord Carrington said:-"It is not generally known that Port Darwin is, to all intents and purposes, a Chinese settlement, and this settlement might be a positive danger to Australia. If this country is to become the great nation which we believe it will, we must at all hazards keep our characteristics and our race intact."

Presented with a Gold-headed Cane by the Mechanics' Union .- Dined and Decorated. A pleasant event happened at the office of Hon. H. A. Widemann this morning. Hon. E. Muller, who will leave to-morrow for Germany, was met according to previous appointment by a deputation from the Mechanics' and Workingmen's Poliwith a gold-headed cane. Hon. John Phillips was the spokesman, addressing Mr. Muller in a few felicitous remarks. The members of the Union wished to mark their appreciation of Mr. Muller's course as one of their nominees. He had sacrificed his business for a principle, and throughout had acted independently and, as they considered, always for the best interests of the party. Mr. Phillips concluded with cordial wishes that Mr. Muller would have a pleasant journey and return reinvigorated, again to take up the cudgels for the principles of the National Reform Party. Mr. Muller in reply expressed his surprise at receiving the present. What he had done was on account of his friendship for the party. This was a great kindness from the party, which be would always remember with grateful feelings. He hoped the party would do better next

Mr. D. M. Crowley said that the gift was only a trifling return for the great sacrifice Mr. Muller had made for principle.

In addition to those already named there were present. Hons. H. A. Widemann and C. O. Berger, Capt. Mehrtens, Messrs. J. C. White, J. F. Bowler, Daniel McKenzie (Vice-President of the Union). W. H. Stone (Secretary) and J. W. Gibbs, and a representative of the BULLETIN. The deputation in retiring heartily shook hands with Mr. Muller and individually wished him aloha and godspeed.

The cane is a handsome one of sixteen kinds of Hawaiian woods, made by Lofquist. It has a massive gold head beautifully embossed, the top bearing the inscription, "Presented to Noble E. Muller from the Mechanics' and W. P. P. Union of Honolulu, H. I., November 20, DINED AND DECORATED. Tuesday evening Mr. Muller was entertained at dinner by Hon. C. O. Berger, when the following other guests were present: His Majesty, Col. G. W. Macfarlane (H. M.'s Chamberlain), Mr. Jas. W. Robertson (Vice-Chamberlain), Hon. Paul Neumann, Hon. Saml. Parker, Mr.

F. S. Pratt and Mr. J. G. Spencer. The King entertained Mr. Muller at luncheon, together with several of the guest's intimate friends, at noon to-day. On this occasion His Majesty was pleased to decorate the honorable gentleman as Knight Companion of the Order of Kalakaua. This distinction was conferred on Mr. Muller as Consul for

STYLISH WEDDING.

Marriage of Mr. Alfred Fowler and

Andrew's Cathedral was crowded to every foot of standing room yesterday evening, by a congregation assembled to witness the marriage of Mr. Alfred Fowler and Miss Eva Neumann. A large number being wedding guests in full attire made the assemblage brilliant. tical Protective Union, and presented | The ushers were Messrs, Oscar Herold and J. M. Monsarrat of Honolulu and Messrs. Blow and Gartley of the U. S. F. S. Charleston.

Rev. Alex. Mackintosh performed the rite impressively. The bride was given away by her father. Mr. T. McKenzie Fowler, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man, other groomsmen being Col. G. W. Macfarlane, Messrs. Jones and Churchill of the U. S. F. S. Charleston, John S. Walker, jr., Ernest H.

Wodehouse and Alika C. Dowsett. Miss Incz Neumann, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was dressed in pale green trimmed with pink and lace. The bridesmaids were Miss Agnes Walker, dressed in pale blue; Miss Rena Herbert in white; Miss McGrew, in ecru lace; Miss Hattie Brown, in rose; Miss Helen Wilder, in lavender, and Miss Adele Widdifield, in canary color. The maidens carried bouquets, their head dresses were in fine taste, and altogether they made an impressive bevy of beauty. The bride was arrayed in a splendid costume of ivory colored satin with train, a white tulle veil flowing from a crown of orange blossoms to the ground. She was a picture of wholesome loveliness, and the couple was very handsome, beyond the conventional acceptation.

A select choir sang the hymn, "The voice that breathed o'er Eden," as the bridal party retired to the vestry. Mr. Wray Taylor played wedding marches on the organ at the beginning and ending, also soft strains of melody throughout the ceremony. A brilliant reception was given at nine o'clock, at the house of the bride's parents on King street.

The bridegroom is a member of the firm of Messrs. John Fowler & Co., of Leeds and London, England. The bride is the eldest daughter of Hon. Paul Neumann, and is accomplished, pretty, and a society favorite. Mr. and Mrs. Fowler will go home to England by way of Australia and India, leaving here on the steamer Mariposa on December 20.
